

I want to retain the Indiana "no call" law as is. I see no reason why a company I have previously done business with or a company who considers me an "existing customer" needs to place a telemarketing call tom.